Faculty Book Highlights 2003-2004

5/20/04—Boston College Law School held an event on Wednesday, May 19, to celebrate this year’s visiting faculty and to honor the members of the BC Law faculty who published books during the 2003-2004 academic year. Twelve members of the full-time faculty authored or co-authored a total of eleven books during the year.

"It’s been a very impressive year," said BC Law Dean John H. Garvey. "Our faculty continue to lead in their respective fields and publish important books that will be referenced around the world. I’m very glad to have this chance to thank them for their efforts, and all they do for this Law School."

Books authored or co-authored by BC Law Faculty in 2003-2004 include:

- Lawrence Cunningham’s What is Value Investing? (New York: McGraw-Hill, 2004);
- Frank Garcia’s Trade, Inequality, and Justice: Toward a Liberal Theory of Just Trade (Ardseys, NY: Transnational Publishers, 2003);
- Sanford Katz’s Family Law in America (Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2003);
